Season's Greetings from the9words

Hi,

Season's greetings and best wishes for the coming year from the9words family.

We'd like to take this opportunity to thank our clients and our freelancers without whom the9words would never have been possible.

Thank you for your trust and patronage.

With best wishes,

Vijay & Avantica

In the beginning

In the beginning there was a dream

A dream of expressing all the creativity inside, of being able to make a living without being apart, of being able to start something that we could proudly call our own, of being able to take an idea and watch it germinate. This dream was the9words.

Our plans for the coming year

Come January 2009, we are aiming to broaden our horizons even further.

Beginning with purely web-based editing, the9words has already progressed to providing content to the print media. Designing and writing a coffee table book for the Indian Army is our latest project that we are looking forward to with great excitement.

We are also looking at increasing our base of freelance writers and setting up a training program for novice editors so that we can eventually absorb them into our team.

At the same time, we want to retain our emphasis on quality over quantity and ensure that our existing clients continue to be satisfied with our commitment to quality and deadlines.

Thank you
